FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Alex Rella began by going over the Oversight Committee Report. He stated that there was more growth in the community, therefore creating more funds for the school system.

With more funding, they are looking at technology support for teachers and pointed out that eventually ESSER funds will go away. A good cushion to keep on hand is 3-4 di mai eventuany ESSER funds win go away. A good cusino million.

There are 312 positions that are funded, in some way, by the One Mill. And it was mentioned about the computer carts and the WIFI-enabled laptops for students.

DISCUSSION: We need to look into having Apprenticeship Program for students to work alongside of our employees to gain on-the-job experience and to be able to leave school with trade experience such as "carpenters, bricklayers, etc.

We need to have meeting somewhere other than Conference Room E and invite the public, along with pastors & ministers, to start spreading the word about what the One

Mill is doing for the school system.

Would like to have more press releases about the One Mill and the technology programs, career & magnet programs and also art & music. We need to have a marketing plan to start after the elections in November.

NEXT MEETING: The time and place for the next meeting will be determined.

ADJOURN: Motion was made to adjourn by Sam Goforth and seconded by Harvey Budd, Passed
