Local students win spots in state thespian competition; Eastside, GHS sweep district contest

Five local high school students have earned spots in the statewide Florida Thespians competition after winning top honors at the recent district competition.

Four Eastside High School students, including James Donnelly, Camille Eyman, Graham Louis and Carly Rubin, will perform at the STRAZ Center in Tampa after being selected as the District Representative for performance at the District 12 Thespian Competition. That means their entry was selected as the best performance piece among the high schools that competed. The four also won a Critic’s Choice Award in the Small Group Musical category.

Eastside High drama teacher Tammy Meyers says the students work hard on their craft.

“In addition to their school work and the time they spend on our shows, they’re putting in something like 20 to 40 hours of rehearsal on their individual pieces, including after school and on weekends,” she said. “We have high expectations for the kids in our program, and they work really hard to rise to those expectations.”

Gainesville High School student Sophia DeLeon was also named District Representative for the technical division and won the Critic’s Choice Award in the Costume Design category. She will be presenting her designs at the state conference in Tampa, which will be held in late March.

This will be the second time DeLeon will be sharing her designs with judges at the statewide competition.

“I watched her present, justify and articulate her choices for her design,” said GHS drama teacher Sarah Shephard. “I look back at how much she has grown as a person and an artist and see the amazing young adult she has become.”

The wins mean Eastside and GHS swept both the performance and technical divisions at the districtwide competition, which drew about 20 schools from North Central Florida. Overall, Eastside earned 14 Superior ratings, 12 Excellent ratings and two Good ratings, while GHS earned 17 Superior ratings, 20 Excellent ratings and 4 Good ratings. Buchholz High (16 Superior, 19 Excellent) and Santa Fe High (1 Superior, 8 Excellent) also had strong showings.
